It's official: GAMM to become first tenant of Industrial Park

As reported in last week's Citizen, GAMM will build a new factory in Bethel—at the Industrial Park adjacent to Col. Dyke Field. GAMM president Greg Monier signed the purchase documents at the town office Monday.

GAMM is the New Hampshire-based garment manufacturer that operates a satellite plant in Bethel, at the Bethel mall. GAMM's Monier said the recurring floods forced him to find a better location for his Bethel operation. "We had to do something," he said. In last spring's April 1 flood, the Bethel factory lost most of its machinery plus 25,000 garments, which had to be buried.

Realizing that GAMM officials were starting to look around for new quarters, and not wanting to see the factory leave town, Bethel officials invited the New Hampshire businessmen to a lunch at The Bethel Inn late last spring. The Bethel officials made their pitch for interesting GAMM in the lots at the Industrial Park—which was an industrial park in name only. Consisting of six lots of about two acres each, the industrial park was just an idea.

But for GAMM it was an idea whose time had come. Although it meant having to put up a new building, a move to the industrial park also meant lots of room for expansion. Mr. Monier said the plans to put a 2,000-square-foot building on the 45-acre site he purchased. "Currently, the GAMM factory in Bethel has only 6,000 square feet." The metal building will be constructed by Schiavetti Homes, of Oxford, and should be ready for occupancy by the beginning of next year, Mr. Monier said.

Total cost of the project is nearly a half-million dollars, including $5,000 for the purchase of the two town lots and up to $3,000 for bringing water into the project. (The town and GAMM will share the cost of bringing in the town water.)

The factory will have its own septic system, but the town will build a road from the Northwest Bethel Road into the industrial park. The factory will also require 220-volt, 3-phase power, which CMP will have to bring in from its trunk line along Rte. 2.

With a new, larger factory in Bethel, Mr. Monier plans to expand the capabilities of the Bethel operation. Whereas the current plant only stitches together pieces cut in Berlin, shipping them back there for finishing, the new plant will have its own finishing operation. This means garments made in Bethel will be shipped direct to such stores as K-Mart.

36 condo units planned on Rt. 26 in Woodstock

Ross Joly, the developer who plans to build condominiums on the Blake Farm, in Bethel, next spring, is planning a 36-unit project in Woodstock this fall.

The condominium project will be constructed on 19 1/2 acres in Woodstock. The property is just past Littlefield Branch and has 190-foot frontage on Rte. 26. Developer Joly described the 2- and 3-bedroom condominium units he plans to build there as "basically leisure-time, second homes." Pre-construction prices start at $75,000 and go to $85,000, he said.

The plans call for five buildings on the property, which has views of North Pond. Three buildings will have eight units apiece, and two buildings will have six units apiece.

Mr. Joly said he expects to present the complete plans for the subdivision to the Woodstock Planning Board at its September meeting. He has already made a preliminary presentation to the board. He hopes to break ground for the development by the middle of September or the beginning of October, he said.

If approved as presented, this will be the largest condominium project to date for Woodstock.

A LARGE CROWD ATTENDED the dedication ceremonies for the new Woodstock School, on Rumford Avenue, in Bryant Pond, Sunday. Welcoming the parents, teachers, contractors, school district officials and interested district citizens was Principal David Murphy, who also introduced the faculty and staff.

Interviews begin for Bethel's new police chief

Bethel's town manager and selectmen began interviewing candidates for the vacant police chief position Monday night.

The town officials interviewed four of five candidates selected from the original 15 who applied for the job. One candidate was in the hospital and his interview will be rescheduled, the town manager said.

Following completion of the first round of interviews, second interviews will be held with the strongest candidates, according to the town manager, who will have the responsibility of naming the successful candidate.

Town Manager Rodney Lynch said all the candidates were concerned with the cost of housing in the Bethel area and were asking for salaries far above what the town has traditionally paid its police chief.

The position has been vacant since the end of June, when Police Chief Bob Stearns retired.

New Woodstock School dedicated Sunday

The second new school building in the 22-year history of SAD #4 was dedicated Sunday afternoon with well-attended ceremonies at the recently completed Woodstock School on Rumford Avenue in Bryant Pond.

Following the invocation by Rev. Linwood Hanson of the Bryant Pond Baptist Church, Darlene Hall of Andover, chairman of the SAD #4 Board of Directors, made welcoming remarks. Superintendent Devonne Craig made note of special guests who were in attendance including the building architect, J. Philip Pea of Auburn; Jane deFries of Rumford, former chairman of the state Board of Education; and Dr. Richard H. Curti, deputy commissioner of the Department of Educational and Cultural Services.

Town Meeting enacts site plan review ordinance

With but three dissenting votes, nearly 100 voters at a special town meeting in Bethel last night (Tuesday) enacted a site plan review ordinance for the town. It is the first such ordinance the town has ever had.

Pat Hudson, who had chaired the Planning Board subcommittee that drafted the ordinance, was the person who moved to enact it. And John Gray, former chairman of the Planning Board, which revised and polished the draft presented to it by the subcommittee, was the one who seconded the motion. There was no discussion on the motion itself.

As explained by town officials, the ordinance does not prohibit any sort of land use—as a zoning ordinance would. Rather, it sets standards for some forms of land use—whether multi-unit residential, industrial, commercial, or industrial. The town manager and the selectmen expressed their thanks to the members of the Planning Board and the ordinance drafting subcommittee for their diligent work in putting together the draft ordinance. The members of the subcommittee, in addition to Chairman Hudson, were: Sumner Burgess, Arthur Gilbert, Donna Remington, Sheila Harrington, Richard Hesterman, Leonard Shaw, Barbara Brown, Ginger Kelly, Mary Brown, David Lupton, Robert Chadbourn and Deborah Dolman.

The members of the Planning Board, in addition to former Chairman Gray, were: Cathy Nowell, Donald Eddy, Leonard Shaw, Ginger Kelly, Karen Brown and John Laban.

In other business, voters changed the rules of the Planning Board and Board of Appeals to make the terms of office of the members of those boards coincide with the town's fiscal year. Voters also changed the rule regarding formal votes of those boards. As amended, the rule now reads: "All issues shall be decided by a majority of those present and eligible to vote and voting."

Special Town Meeting also approved a housekeeping measure to permit the town to act as a conduit for state funds being passed to the school district for programs concerning the certification of teachers and administrators. The money amounts to $1,750.

Bill Cousins was moderator of the meeting.

A success story in Bethel

The big news this week is that Gamm—the New Hampshire-based garment factory—will stay in Bethel.

Depressed with being flooded out in each of the two winters of its existence at the former Bethel Mall—on Cross Street—Gamm officials were determined not to stay in their present quarters for another winter.

They were seriously looking at available quarters in Rumford. But, at the same time, they were loath to turn their backs on a good and loyal workforce in Bethel.

Enter the town manager and selectmen. These local officials worked with the Gamm officials to provide suitable new quarters for the operation—at the planned industrial park, at the airport.

Gamm was first lured to Bethel two years ago through the efforts of town officials and the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce. It is commendable that local authorities have been able to keep the garment factory operating in town. It means 60 jobs currently, plus the promise of over 100 jobs after the new, expanded plant begins operating.

That's good news for the local economy—not because there's a lack of jobs, but because a garment factory provides a new ingredient in the local economy. While the wood-based industries and the tourism establishments have been fueling the local economy, developing a new sector in the local economy can do nothing but good for economic stability. It's worth noting that this is the first new factory to come to town since the 1950s, when Bethel Furniture Stock was built.

Congratulations to all those who made this new factory happen. As Selectmen Chairman Arlan Jodrey said, "It's been a real cooperative effort." Which is as it should be.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I read, with interest the editorial of Aug. 12, 1987.

Central Maine Power want to defoliate 100 miles of Maine.

Edison, in Boston, conversely is proposing an ocean cable (which is a very progressive alternative) to solve its problems.

If the over land route was the only option open the wise alternative, in my opinion, would be an underground wire. This would be environmentally sound and be protected from the elements.

As the new minister of the Bethel Church of the Nazarene I would like to introduce myself, Pastor John Clayton. I am 35 years old, never been married, and I have just come from the Nazarene Bible College in Colorado Springs. Consequently, I am beginning my first pastorate, and very excited.

Your neighborhood Church of the Nazarene endeavors to provide a place of worship, a circle of fellowship, a hub of community concern, and a Christ-oriented evangelistic ministry. We stress Bible-based preaching, Spirit-filled singing, and Christian love. We are concerned with the welfare, both material and spiritual, of our community. All visitors are warmly welcomed. As an extension of His hands, we offer to all the opportunity to experience the healing touch of Jesus Christ.

To the Editor:

The 157th Infantry Association is making a concentrated effort to locate all former members of the 157th Infantry Regiment and the 158th Field Artillery. These units were part of the 45th Infantry Division during World War II, and had an outstanding record of combat while fighting in Sicily, Italy, France, and Germany.

The Association conducts an annual reunion and a quarterly newsletter is sent to each member.

If any of your readers served, or know of anyone who served with either of these units, please contact Ralph W. Fink, 19 Williamsburg, Hershey, Pa. 17033; phone: 717/533-5482.

Especially being sought is Allan L. Shepard who is known to have lived in Bryant Pond many years ago. Perhaps a relative or friend can give us information as to his current whereabouts.

REMEMBERING NED HASTINGS

My first recollection of Ned Hastings was in August 1970 when I spoke to a meeting of the Bethel Historical Society on sources and uses of local history. I was a graduate student in history at the time and had just passed my comprehensive examinations as the final step prior to the doctoral dissertation. Ned asked me about this experience following the meeting and we compared "compared notes" concerning his similar experience some years earlier when he studied literature at Harvard. Ned knew my grandmother, Edith Howe, who had been a regular visitor at the Hastings homestead on Broad Street, so he was aware (as I was not until then) that I was a descendant of John Hastings (1796-1859), village blacksmith and first treasurer of Gould Academy, who built his house. He invited me to visit which I did two weeks later. I was impressed with the level of interest the house possessed and how very proud he was of it.

I did not see Ned again until I came to the Dr. Moses Mason House in the summer of 1974. From that time on, I was a regular visitor at the Hastings Homestead and he visited the society headquarters on a daily basis when he was in Bethel during the summer. We discussed every subject from music to books. He was a keen observer of the Bethel scene and kept up with all the daily happenings in Bethel. He brought a great sense of humor to all we discussed and I will always fondly remember those pleasant times sitting on the front porch or in the parlor talking with Ned. Always there was music for which I was an enthusiast and he was a highly talented performer and supremely sophisticated listener.

Then there were those hilarious moments that Ned never tired of telling—the time in 1974 when he took a memorable ride in his grandmother's best carriage up Broad Street pulled by some runaway horses, or the trip to pick up the Estey organ in Gilead, or the sudden visit by a partridge to the house last fall. There were adventures at the old swimming hole at the Covered Bridge on Sunday River (one of Ned's favorite spots), the visits to my parents in East Bethel, or the time all the nudists decided to gather on his side lawn. There were so many laughs and Ned enjoyed them all.

Ned was a teacher who from all reports was highly respected by his students, many of whom stayed in touch with him long after their college years. Several called me during his last months for news. I could not help but be greatly impressed by their level of devotion. He was also greatly admired by his colleagues at Curry College and by the congregations who were privileged to hear his music each Sunday. He was a superb organist and also excelled at the piano. He also composed for the organ as well.

Ned was a devoted member of the Bethel Historical Society, always the popular host of the Sudbury Canada Days variety show. He was a general donor of artifacts when the Dr. Moses Mason House was being set up as a museum in 1974. He played a major role in the Indian Raid '81 festivities. He also helped the society in numerous ways from the playing the piano at monthly meetings to assisting with publications. It is on the

Tri-Town Rescue

Tri-Town has had a few busy weeks since I last wrote a column. Briefly, we've had our annual picnic, Boosters Club supper, board and SAR meetings, as well as the on-going Community Birthday Calendar sale. You can see that our auxiliary has not taken the summer off like I did. If you're interested in purchasing one of the calendars, call Jane Chandler at 674-2963, and she will give you all the details and take your orders.

Training for August will be in Auto Extrication, and will be held on Aug. 30 at Rte. 219 Junk Yard in West Paris. Arlene Greenleaf of Bethel Rescue will be the instructor, and if you've ever taken one of her classes, you know she won't make it easy. Come planning to work, and learn something that day. Continuing education credits will be available for this course.

Tri-County EMS, the ruling service organization for Franklin, Oxford and Androscoggin counties, has announced that there is now a crisis team available to assist squads or attendants deal with stressful situations. Tri-Town's Zeba Welder and Paul Marcolini (who we share with Bethel Rescue) are a part of this crisis team.

Tri-Town's chief, Jane Chandler is finally back on her feet (both of them, that is) after losing a round with a broken bottle on the beach. We are very glad that you're healing, Jane.

And finally, I'd like to send our congratulations to Merle and Ruby Ring of Bryant Pond, on their 50th wedding anniversary. Merle was Tri-Town's coordinator for several years.

latter score that I will particularly miss him. Many of the publications that the society has produced over the years are stronger because of his suggestions. He enjoyed his role as a trustee and was deeply pleased with the society's growth and achievements.

Ned was also an enthusiastic supporter of the Bethel Library, where he began as a patron when a little boy. He used the library often, assisted with the annual book sale for many years, and was proud of its progress.

We often talked about all the things that could happen in Bethel once he retired here. This was supposed to be in 1988 when he turned 65. It was not to be since in November 1985 he was diagnosed with lung cancer. At first the prognosis looked good and Ned experienced the best treatment that is possible. He wanted to get his retirement in Bethel so he left Curry in June of 1986 to come home to the family homestead. He lived just over a year here, but it was one with many valleys and few peaks. The cancer spread to his liver and finally to his brain. Yet he took all of the treatments and lived all the agony with remarkable courage. For me, the hardest part was seeing such a bright, articulate and cultured person decline so fast, particularly during that last month. Still there were periods when the "old" Ned came through almost to the end. It must have been hard for him to muster all of his intellectual power to turn a phrase or come up with a quip.

Ned died peacefully on Aug. 10. All of us who knew him, were relieved that he did not linger on and on, a possibility that worried Ned. He lasted but 13 days in the hospital and then was buried in his beloved Woodland Cemetery amidst all his ancestors. It is clear that Bethel has lost a "treasure" and all of us who knew him a remarkable and valued friend.

Rotary Club notes

Mary Gillies, of Gillies Realty, was the guest speaker at the Bethel Rotary Club's Tuesday breakfast meeting at Martha's Restaurant this week. She told the Rotarians that the biggest drawback in the local real estate market is the fact that prices are going up faster than is the local population's ability to afford those prices.

When there's a changed use, such as the Bethel area becoming more of an area of recreation homes, "There's an uncomfortable transition where people who were there originally are pushed out," she said.

What is needed is for a developer to step forward and join forces with a banker and a real estate broker and put together a development of small, energy-efficient houses that the average working family can afford.

She pointed out that the price of homes in the Bethel area is not high compared to statewide averages, but it is much higher than it was just a few short years ago.

She told the Rotarians that there is no sign of slackening demand for recreational housing in the area. "The demand has not diminished. The people in Boston and Providence have the money and find Maine a bargain," she said. Portland residents are also increasingly looking to western Maine as a place for recreation homes.

She said the hottest segments of the current market are homes selling for $80,000 or less—of which there aren't many—old farmhouses with some acreage, and shorefront cottages (especially if they can be used as a cabin for a ski weekend as well).

She suggested that anyone looking to sell property should first get a good idea of what the property is worth. The best way of accomplishing this, she said, is to get a formal appraisal, or speak with an attorney or banker who deals with real estate sales, or with a real estate broker.

Children's Dance Theater of Bethel to open for 29th season

Children's Dance Theater, under the direction of Susan Clement Farrar, has been in the area for over 28 years. It has presented The Nutcracker Ballet, Copelia and Sleeping Beauty as well as many well known folktales such as Snow White, Alice in Wonderland and Peter Pan, with Peter Pan actually flying. There are no ready made scripts for these folktales. They are adapted to movement by putting bits of music together from many sources to create a mood and interpret the story. This is an original idea of Director Farrar which sets it apart from the ordinary dance recital. Some of these productions have been purchased by Dance Congress of New York to be sold to dance studios around the country. Students represent a character and perform on stage in at least one complete act. This exposure gives the student confidence and poise which ultimately carries over into the classroom.

Ms. Farrar lived in New York City for seven years and in Boston for six where she studied with the finest teachers in the country. Her favorite ballet teacher was Russian ballerina, Madame Butsova. Other teachers were "Mr. Tap" Al Gilbert, Paul Draper, and Danny Hector. Jazz work with Giordano, Gennaro and Bob Andy, with Andy taking top billing because of his lyrical jazz method which Ms. Farrar feels is more suitable for young people. Dr. Fishback takes special kudos in aerobics. A medical doctor who claims the body is built so that anyone who wishes to work at it can do aerobics. Ms. Farrar taught in Phoenix, Ariz., for 12 years where all four of her children were born.

Creative Movement offers the very young student a chance to learn the foundations of "natural dance" in an atmosphere of fun and purpose. Kinder Ballet is a program especially designed by Ms. Farrar over the years which is a fun way to learn movement using familiar nursery rhymes and songs. The Aro Mat and Parachute are used in both these classes.

The Combination Class, ballet, jazz tap, aerobics, is offered to all others thereby giving the students an opportunity to choose their favorite later on. At age eight, Classical Ballet and Center work is introduced in the Combination Class. This graceful art form requires strict discipline, develops body awareness and a sense of ballet placement. A French vocabulary is used and underscores a strong base for Pointe work. After a full two years of classical ballet, at age 10, if enough strength in back, legs, and feet has developed, they may go on pointe if they wish.

This year Ms. Farrar is introducing an all aerobic class for children over seven, and a teen jazz class. There will also continue to be Aerobic Workout classes under the capable direction of Laurie Vogt, a certified instructor.

Ms. Farrar is a member of the Dance

Along with the expansion of the plant's capabilities will be an expansion of the workforce. Currently employing 60 workers, the GAMM boss predicted the new plant would employ over 100. (GAMM employs a total of 465 people in three plants—Bethel, Berlin and Ashland, N.H.)

Mr. Monier had high praise for his Bethel employees. "Bethel's been good to us," he said. "It's a good workforce." He also had praise for the town office, comparing its efficiency with that of larger towns, such as Berlin and Rumford, with industrial development staffs.

"We've been able to get things done faster here, without a big staff," he said. Board of Selectmen Chairman Arlan Jodrey lavished praise on Mr. Monier's operation. "We've had nothing but positive comments about GAMM since they came here," Mr. Jodrey said. He noted that the garment factory is a non-polluting industry and provides good jobs for area residents. "No dust, dirt, smoke, and nothing going to the landfill," he commented.

Town Manager Rodney Lynch said the selectmen—in the face of offers from other towns, notably Rumford—worked hard to attract GAMM to the airport. "The Board of Selectmen wanted to ensure the business stayed in town, for job retention and job expansion."

And, he said, "it allows us to fulfill the goal of [having] an industrial park at the airport." He credited the Airport Advisory Committee and former Town Manager Norm Ness for having the vision to set up plans for such a park. "We're very pleased that it happened," he said.

Town officials have no idea about additional development at the industrial park, but local mill owner and pilot Bob Saunders said he is considering establishing a flight operations business at an industrial park lot on which he has a deposit.

Teachers of America, Maine Dance Teachers Club, where she has taught classes, and which meet once a month throughout the dance season, and Dance Congress of New York. She is the author of children's books, "Samantha on Stage" published by Dial Press, N.Y., "Scholastic, and Julia MacRae, London. "Bravo, Samantha," "Emily and Her Cavalier," and "Clowns in the Kitchen" are at the publishers. She also written Highlights, Teen Mag, and Fifty Plus, on dance, fitness and travel.

For the past five summers Ms. Farrar has been program director and aerobics teacher at Long Lake.

Classes will start on Tuesday, Sept. 15, allowing children to settle in school first. Interested children please send cards so classes can be set up prior to personal registration which will be held at the Maine Street Studio on Thursday, Sept. 3, and Thursday, Sept. 10, from 2 to 5 p.m.

School dedication

Kathleen Mersereau, Woodstock town manager, accepted the formal return of the former Woodstock Elementary School property to the town by Mrs. Hall, acting on behalf of the directors of the school district.

Dr. Card brought greetings and congratulations from the state of Maine on the successful completion of the building project. He said the new complex reflected both the pride of the citizenry in their schools and the confidence they have in their young people. Dr. Card said the children who enter kindergarten this fall will be members of the first high school class to graduate in the 21st century and he advised all to "Keep your feet on the ground, look toward the mountains, and reach for the stars."

The dedication speaker, Eva C. Twitchell of Woodstock, an 11 year member of the SAD #44 Board of Directors, and currently chairman of its Buildings and Grounds Committee, said that the new structure was built with as few barriers as possible, making easier the free flow of information, both in and out. With this free flow of information, bridges would be built between the school and community. "Children are bridge builders," said Mrs. Twitchell.

The audience was entertained by several songs by Rick Charette, an "artist in residence" two years ago at the Woodstock Elementary School under the auspices of the "Ripple in the Pond" grant.

The ceremonies concluded with the benediction by Silver Leamon, interim pastor of the Locke Mills Union Church.

Prior to, and after the dedication the building was open for tours. Throughout the afternoon maximum use of the playground facilities was made by the youngsters attending, many of who will be attending the school this year.

Students in the kindergarten through grade 6 facility will attend their first classes in the building next Wednesday. Although the structure was designed for approximately 140 students, Principal Murphy says he would not be surprised to see an enrollment of 170 when the school year opens. In late May the SAD #44 board approved the leasing of a portable classroom to accommodate the unanticipated increase in projected enrollment and needs of the special education program.

CORRECTION
In last week's special section on the Woodstock School, the author of the article on the old school was Eva C. Twitchell. The middle initial was incorrect. The Citizen apologizes for the error.

By OLIVE R. DAVIS

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks, Olive Davis, Bertha Benoit, Kay Billings, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Felt and family attended the entertainment put on at the Grange Hall, Thursday night. There was a large attendance attending the show put on by the Historical Society and Franklin Grange.

Friday my three nieces came to have dinner with me. They were my oldest sister Ethel Towne's three oldest daughters namely, Mae Cartland, Kezar Falls; Bertha Goodspeed, Harwich, Mass.; and Marguerite Pearson, Titusville, Fla. Bertha and Marguerite are visiting with Mae Cartland at present. We spent a very pleasant day.

I went to Bridgton Saturday and called on Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews and sister, Lillian Harmon.

We are having some very hot afternoons this week. I have 5 thermometers; at 5 o'clock we had 2 in 80, one 90, another 2 in 85. Now please tell me how hot it was.

The poor gardens are suffering from lack of water the lawns are drying up also.

Mrs. Esther Davis, Lorraine Nowlin and Olive Davis went for a ride Tuesday to see Esther's sister, brother and relatives in and around Livermore. We ate a picnic lunch at Breton's Pond. It was lovely and cool there on a 90 degree day. Then we called on Mr. and Mrs. Jim Whittemore at Livermore Falls. Next we went to call on a brother and wife, Don and Hazel Brown. At Fayette we visited a sister-in-law, Methyl Brown. We called on Kenneth Pike. Sister Emily was away. We had a very pleasant day arriving at home at 4:45 pm.

Tuesday night a group of friends went to the Village Inn Restaurant for dinner, Esther Davis and daughters, Patricia Tibbetts, Lorraine Nowlin, and grandchildren, Diane Nowlin, Jackie Tibbetts, and friend, Mark. Geraldine Shorey joined them, coming up from Cumberland. After dinner they drove back to Oxford to Patricia Tibbetts' home and visited awhile before returning to their individual homes.

Sunday the 16th was a red letter day for Esther Davis. Her daughters, Patricia Tibbetts and Lorraine Nowlin, tendered a birthday party for their mother in honor of her 75th birthday which fell on July 17th. It was a complete surprise to her. This was held at the Franklin Grange Hall from 2 to 5. Lorraine took her mother out to dinner then brought her to the hall, a little after two, where all her friends and relatives were awaiting her. As she came in they all sang "Happy Birthday to You". The orchestra, Richard Felt, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bedard, Johnny Howe, Irving Cole, Elden Hathaway, Bertha Benoit, and Carl Brooks kept toes tingling. Chris Nowlin and Esther Davis had a dance. "Peggy Oneil" with Esther Davis substituted on the son was sung by all. The girls spoke a bit to the crowd, thanking them for coming, etc. Olive Davis read an original poem for Esther and presented her with a copy of it.

Ethel Davis introduced the town manager who spoke a few words and introduced Donald Twitchell our state senator who presented Esther with a Folio of Recognition as a cherished and a dedicated Citizen, from the Senate and Representatives of Maine. He also handed her letters of congratulations from Senator George Mitchell, State Senator Don Twitchell.

Woodstock Town Manager Kathleen Mesereau presented her the "Town of Woodstock Appreciation Statement."

The closing song was "I want a Girl" which all joined in upon as the orchestra played. They continued playing throughout the afternoon as the receiving line was formed and all had a chance to speak with Esther. There was over a 100 turned out. Refreshments were served following the line of congratulations.

Esther Davis' relatives from Livermore who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Whittemore, Martha and Clyde Hines, Emily and Kenneth Pike and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Brown and family.

There were guests from Fayette, East Wilton, Bethel, Locke Mills, Woodstock, West Paris, Norway, Yarmouth, Freeport, Cumberland, and California.

Patricia Packard Moore and daughters and Mary Packard Nissen from Fresno, Calif., Esther's cousins were present from far away. Buddy Packard and wife also, Nancy Vandenberg from Nashua, N.H., were there. John and Yvonne Nowlin, Connie Hindman from Bethel, and many others. A beautiful birthday cake was made by Carolyn Bennett from Mechanic Falls. Carol Stowell tended the guest book and Joyce Hathaway tended the gift table and money tree.

The floral centerpiece and Esther's corsage were from her daughters, Patricia and Lorraine, and their families. Joseph Stowell printed the guest napkins. The cake was served by Esther's grandchildren, Jackie and Neil Tibbetts and Diane Nowlin. The refreshments were from the members of Goodwill who brought bars, Tri Town, historical group, sandwiches, Willing Workers, chips, olives, and dips. The lunch was served buffet style. Patricia Tibbetts, Edith Deegan and Ethel Twitchell arranged the lunch. Torri Shorey assisted them and the grandchildren.

TWENTY FOUR AREA YOUNGSTERS turned out for an ATV safety workshop last Saturday at Ken Snow's property at Trap Corner—the former mud run. The workshop, sponsored by the Co-operative Extension Service and the ATVenture Club of Scarborough, covered pre-ride checks, turns, figure-8's, safe-riding practices, laws, environmental concerns, sharp turns, direction changes, riding on hills and riding over obstacles. Frank Wertheim, of the Extension Service, said he noticed a vast improvement in the riding skills of the participants by the end of the day. Instructors for the workshop were members of the ATVenture Club. The participants received certificates at the completion of the workshop. According to a new state law, young ATV riders need a certificate from such a workshop in order to be allowed to ride on land other than land of their family. (Photo by Jeanne Boelsma)

What a grand and glorious week since I last wrote items. Eveline hasn't been out for a week, didn't need to go so stayed in and had good reading and helped Joe with the vegetables for the freezer. Joe bought an air conditioner for the bedroom and it is wonderful but I don't leave it running all night. Also have two fans so we survived. Didn't need to eat too much when hot.

The families of Correy Bonney met at the Community Hall for lunch after the funeral service Saturday. A large gathering with relatives on both sides attended. Several in town sent in food to help out.

Callers at Lawrence's: Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card, Karen Merrill and J.E. Coffin, Lena Dean, Darcy Robertson, Myrtle Downing, Joe Vatcher, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penley Sr., James Abbott, and Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Heath, Arnold Coffin.

Mr. and Mrs. "Root" Lawrence joined a friendly party at Lena Dean's camp on Labrador Pond, Sumner, on Aug. 21. A good time enjoyed by all and a feast.

Joe Vatcher had a dentist appointment Aug. 17, at 3:30 p.m. when he got there no electric power so after a half hour he left and went back Aug. 21. Maybe too many electrical coolers as a new transformer was needed.

Upton

By ARLINE BERNIER

We extend sympathy to family, relatives and the many friends of Rae Bartholomew. Rae and her sister, Fern, were schoolmates to me in the early grammar school years when the family lived in Upton and we have touched bases through the years with a casual, comfortable friendship. We also claimed kinship being distant cousins, and I will miss her as will everyone who knew her.

Andy Cox was taken to the hospital following a light stroke. He was given a Cat Scan—Dolly has angina problems and feel as though everything is coming apart.

The Wells place looks nice with much grass around it mowed. It does look brown rather than the nice green lawns usually are this time of year. There are many in the area the same color.

Dave and Joan Miller called on the Berniers one evening last week. They are spending a month's vacation in their home on East B Hill Road. The old Elma home place. Their son Tom from Massachusetts spent one week with them. Steve remained in Chicago where he works to pay for his education. The Millers have only a few days left before returning to Chicago for their teaching jobs.

Clayton Thompson has been cutting and hauling brush from some of the yards along Route 26.

Sunday, the third annual homecoming was held at Margaret Mitchell's place on Back Street. There were 41 guests, from Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, and Florida. Muriel Scott, Mrs. Mitchell's niece, who is the executive director of the Central Maine Area Agency on Aging was one of the guests. The most interesting person was Mrs. Katherine Moody from St. Petersburg, Fla. Mrs. Moody was raised by Mother Walker (Mother Walker Fall on Route 26). She kept everyone's interest whetted with her stories of the Mother Walker Farm, which no longer exists and has been overgrown with forest. Her stories of life too soon passed were of interest to all.

The homecoming went through the day. There were a few overnight guests. A good time was had by all. God willing next August there will be the 4th homecoming. All that is asked is another beautiful day as was last Sunday.

CARD OF THANKS

It was hard to keep track of them all as there was horse shoes to play, volleyball, and baseball, as well as a swimming pool for the very young. A very nice dinner was served by Mrs. June Stearns, Mrs. Agnes Foster, Mrs. Clara Hamlin and Mrs. Jo Tyler with John Foster and Richard Stearns at the barbecues. The oldest member of the gang was Arthur Wyman of Damascus, Va. who was 84 years. The one coming the farthest was Nathan Baudou of New Mexico. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angeline of Northwest Bethel. The youngest one was Erin Stearns, of Rumford Point, the daughter of Dan and Mary Stearns. Erin has just turned one year old. Everyone enjoyed the dinner, sports, and the general meeting of relatives we rarely meet. It was decided to have another reunion in two years with George Bilodeau and Mrs. Marian Abbott of Andover as co-chairpersons. Also all the families brought salads or casseroles to enhance the dinner.

Thought of the Day: Talent is knowing how to do something; Judgment is knowing whether to do it!!

—Ralph Banks

Calvary Congregational Church Pastor and Mrs. Grover returned from their vacation last week. Brother Randall Rickards was our speaker for the services last Sunday.

Meditation: Through faith we understand that the worlds were formed by the "Word of God," so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.

Missionary moments: Brother Randy shared a ministry he and his wife, Alma, were a part of, Randy as music director, at Junior Bible Camp, South Hope, Maine, for 5th-8th grades. Hymn of praise, "Burdens Are Lifted at Calvary." Morning message, "God's Love," from John 3:14-27. By going thru the Bible, different verses were read to verify this message.

Rally Day, Sept. 20: Our theme "Gold Rush Sunday," with a round-up starting our fall quarter with dinner, fun and games.

Our 13th annual Missionary Conference with speaker, Rev. Robert Atwood, will be coming in October. Dates to be announced later.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all those who made such an effort to make my 75th birthday party a great success: the Tri-Town Rescue Auxiliary; the Goodwill Group of the West Paris Universalist Church; the Willing Workers of South Woodstock; and the Historical Society of Woodstock. It is greatly appreciated.

This is your Chamber of Commerce

Each week, this column will spotlight a different member of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce. The purpose is to give some understanding about the various fields of endeavor of the Chamber members.

National Training Labs (NTL) is an institute made up of more than 300 faculty members committed to helping people understand how to assist groups and organizations to become high performing systems, through specially developed methods of learning by experience in groups. NTL has offered summer programs in Bethel since 1947, and has been a member of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce for many years. This summer over 1,600 people have come to Bethel to participate in more than 40 programs, most of which are one week in length. Originally based at Gould Academy, NTL acquired the Gehring House as a conference center in July of 1956, and in addition to their own conference complex, currently uses the Bethel Inn Conference Center and the Crescent Park School for lab space, and many inns, bed and breakfasts, and private homes for lodging.

NTL is an important part of the local business scene, publishing a booklet for participants entitled "Where To Go, What To Do, In and around Bethel." Although participants are kept very busy during their labs, many find time to explore shops and restaurants in the area. Local residents may apply for scholarships to attend NTL programs, and are welcome at the morning Individual Seminar programs as well. Individual NTL members have been involved with the local community through adult education programs, work with local groups, and as consultants for local businesses. Many NTL members have returned to Bethel each year and have a special fondness for the area.

Celebrating its 40th birthday this summer, NTL, now under the new leadership of President Fred Nader and the NTL Board, looks forward to continuing as a vital part of the Bethel area.

Bear hunting changes announced

Maine bear hunters will find several new changes in hunting laws taking effect during the course of this fall's season. They should also find one of the largest brown bear populations in recent years.

The Maine 113th Legislature passed several new laws regulating bear hunting, but as non-emergency laws they go into effect 90 days after adjournment, Sept. 29, and during the open season on bears, which begins Sept. 1.

Beginning on Sept. 29, bear bait must be placed at least 50 yards from any travel way accessible by conventional 2- or 4-wheel-drive vehicles. The baited area must be marked by a 2-inch by 4-inch tag with the name and address of the baiter, and it must be more than 500 yards from any dump or campground, and more than 500 yards from an occupied dwelling unless written permission is granted by the owner or lessee. Bait may be placed no more than 30 days before the opening of the season effective in 1988, and bait areas must be cleaned up by Nov. 10. Also, no one may hunt from a bait stand or blind of another without the owner's permission.

Also effective on Sept. 29, and of interest to deer hunters as well as bear hunters, trees on another person's land may not be damaged or destroyed by inserting metallic or ceramic objects used in the construction of a ladder or observation stand. Other types of stands may not be erected without the written consent of the landowner, and such stands must be removed by the beginning of the 10th day following the close of the hunting season.

Beginning in 1988, it will be legal for Maine residents to train up to 4 dogs on bear from Aug. 1 to Aug. 31, except in Washington and Hancock counties. Also beginning in 1988, the open hunting season bear will begin on the Monday preceding Sept. 1.

As evidenced by numerous reports of bear sightings and bear problems in central and northern Maine this summer, Maine's wild bear population may be at a modern high. According to Wildlife Biologist John Hunt, the population is estimated at between 20,000 and 28,000 animals.

Several bears which became nuisances around towns and campsites have had to be live-trapped and transported to remote areas. The nuisance bear problem is expected to abate as the wild berry and nut crops ripen and when the hunting season begins.

How nice it seemed to see a little rain along with the thunder shower last night. Just wish it could have kept on raining for several days as we need it so badly. I never saw the rivers any lower than they are now and it makes for a dangerous situation if fires break out. However, guess we have to take what comes and make the best of it and hope the Good Lord will provide the rain before long. We have had water enough so far and hope it continues but who knows. It takes a lot of water to can and freeze vegetables from the garden and even though it is dry, the garden seems to be producing pretty well. Of course we hope it will continue to do so.

If anyone likes hot, humid weather, they shouldn't have any complaints at all with what we have had lately. For myself, I could stand it to have the air a little drier. To each is own.

Last Thursday was a busy day as I made fudge for the refreshment table that they had at the variety show that night. Had an appointment with the doctor in the afternoon and took a few minutes to rest to be ready for the big night. Russell was the reader of our "Cinderella Farce", as they called it. Peggy and I were the Ugly Sisters. Bertha Benoit was Cinderella, Paul Billings was the Prince, and Richard Felt was the Reporter who found the girl the slipper fit. Carl Brooks did some sound effects for us and Lettie Brooks was the Fairy God Mother, not from Fairy Books. We did our best to make it fun for folks to watch and guess we succeeded fairly well from the laughs we got. It was fun to do, anyway.

The whole program was very enjoyable and with eighteen door prizes given to the lucky number holders, it was an enjoyable evening. Lots of good music, yodeling which was great, musical instruments played and a little magic to make things turn out the best possible. We could have been there all night. All I can say is that it was great to see so many folks come and have a good time. Hope we can have another show as good in the near future some time.

Friday and a little cloudy but I washed anyway and it got dry. Russell wanted to know if I wanted to can some beans. I couldn't really say I felt like it but said bring them in and we'll take care of them so that is what we did. Had 15 pints when I got through. Russell and Peggy went to town to the doctors and got the groceries while I was working on the beans. While they were home and after I had the beans canned, I made a chocolate cake to decorate for my daughter's birthday. I had asked her and the family to come to Sunday dinner and they had accepted so wanted to get things underway as I expected to be canning beans on Saturday. Sure enough, hot and muggy on Saturday but the beans needed canning badly so Russell decided to pick them. He went and got broccoli first, and I took care of it and then went out to pick a few beans. I can't get down on my knees so have to bend over and can't seem to stand that too long so picked the short row and Russell had started on the longer row by that time. I took what he had as well as what I had picked and started getting them ready for jars. Had to get that first canner full started as soon as possible as I knew there was going to be quite a few. Put up 32 pints before the day was over and gave some to Wendell and Viola as well. Peggy had gone to Auburn to help her daughter and husband with their yard sale so Russell and I did the job alone. In the evening, Peggy went dancing as she does most every Saturday night.

As you can guess, Sunday was busy. Got things going early for my special dinner for Ronnie, Mike and girls. Laura called and wanted Peggy to come give her a perm so away Peggy went to help her. Ronnie and family arrived shortly after 11 and things were pretty well ready for the dinner I had planned so I could visit with them as well as serve dinner. It was a good day if I did get tired.

Monday and still hot and humid. Went to see the doctor in the morning. We had left Russell at the hospital in Norway for therapy on his back and arms to see if it will help any. I had to wait and was afraid Russell would have to wait for us to get back but they had kept him busy all the time we were gone. Got home and had lunch, then got ready to go to Lewiston where Russell had an appointment and I went to see a doctor in Auburn. Can't stay away from doctors at all. He is trying to get help for his eyes and hasn't had any luck doing so yet. Got home in time to get supper and rest for a few minutes before going to our regular meeting at Franklin Grange which was music night. It was an open meeting and had visitors with us. It was real good program with lots of good music by different ones. Always enjoy the music.

Did a little cooking Tuesday morning and Russell picked the wax beans up back ready to be taken care of. Got that done after lunch and had 16 pints. In the evening, Wendell came and Russell and I helped him pick the beans out front and let him have them. We have so many. Forgot to say that on Monday while in Auburn, we called on Myrna and Bernard White for a few minutes.

We had a surprise on Tuesday morning when Verna Swan drove into the yard and said she had someone who wanted to see us. She had taken Herman Cole and Bekka to town to get groceries so stopped on the way home. It was good to see Herman. We have wanted to get up but just haven't done it. It was nice of Verna to stop in so we could have a door yard visit.

Wednesday was busy as well, watered all my plants and talked to them a little. They have to have attention as well as other things. Had three jars that didn't seal so did them over to seal them. Russell brought in some zucchini so I got busy and put up three quart containers for casseroles in the winter. He also brought in some broccoli so put up five quart containers of that. There were zucchini and summer squashes ready to make a casserole so proceeded to make one for lunch. Peggy had left early in the morning to go find her friend in Sweden and then go to York Harbor to visit one of the ladies she waits on at the Hillsboro Club during the winter. They sure had a good day for it. After lunch, Russell had another appointment for therapy so I drove him down for that. While he was there, I went and did a little shopping and came back when he was done to take him for another appointment for a back treatment. We do keep busy. Went to the Co-op to pick up something for my sister, got medication and came home. Grace came and then we were pretty well ready for one of my African Violets and visited for a few minutes. Laura and Bernard Dutchess of East Andover came in the evening to get the yeast I had picked up for her at the Co-op and during that time we had a little thunder shower. Didn't mind at all but wish it could have rained longer than it did.

Now I have this written and guess what? There are more zucchini to take care of so will be busy for a while as I plan to chop it up and have it for making zucchini and carrot cakes. They are delicious and make lots of them to have if anyone comes to call and I need something for desert, they are just the thing to pull out of the freezer to serve. Nothing like being prepared for company. Guess by the sound they are ready so will say so long for this time. Have a good weekend and we hope it won't be so humid and that we soon get the water we need so badly.

Line towers flown into place at Sunday River

With the state of Maine sizzling through the recent heatwave, thoughts turned to snow and winter at Sunday River Ski Resort as the line towers and footings for the Sunday River Express detachable quad chairlift and the Little White Cap fixed grip quad chairlift were set into place.

Carson Helicopter Company of Perkins, Pa., flew the towers into place while crews from Life Engineering of Carson City, Nev., and Sunday River secured the new towers into place.

The Sunday River Express high-speed, high capacity detachable quad chairlift is the first detachable quad chairlift at any ski resort in Maine or New Hampshire. This lift, which replaces the Barker Mtn. double chairlift, travels 4,929 feet over the Agony Trail on a vertical rise of 1,402 feet. Three thousand skiers per hour will ascend at average speeds of 1,000 feet per minute reaching the summit of Barker Mtn. in 5 1/2 minutes, a 50 percent reduction in ride time from the original double chairlift. The Sunday River Express represents 30 percent of Sunday River's total uphill lift capacity or 4.2 million vertical transport feet per hour (VTF). VTF is the accepted ski industry standard for measuring uphill lift capacity. Based on current capacity at other Maine and New Hampshire ski areas, Sunday River will maintain its number one position in uphill lift capacity in Maine and New Hampshire.

This high-capacity lift will insure that lift lines will average less than eight minutes over the course of the busiest skiing day. The Little White Cap fixed grip chairlift opens access to Sunday River's fifth mountain peak, White Cap. The 3,715 ft. fixed grip lift is the first of four lifts scheduled for the entire White Cap area. The lift loads at D.W. McKee's Restaurant and unloads adjacent to the former Cascades Cut-off trail, renamed Wildfire. Combined with the Sunday River Express, the Little White Cap quad will increase Sunday River's uphill capacity by over 5,000 skiers per hour.

In addition to the new chairlifts, Sunday River's $5.2 million on-mountain expansion includes 10 new trails for all ability levels, 55 acres of additional snowmaking, the expansion and renovation of the Barker Mtn. Lodge and a new condominium welcome center at South Ridge. Condominium development valued at $19.8 million includes studio, one and two bedroom units at the Brookside Condominium complex at the base of the new fixed grip quad chairlift, the com-

Albany residents express concern about effects of development

"The world is too much with us," Albany residents told state and local officials Monday night in a well-attended public meeting in the Albany Town Hall. The meeting, called by the Albany Improvement Association and sponsored by Robert Anderson and Dorothy Duddy, produced a standing-room-only crowd of nearly 100 people, most of whom were concerned with the effects that outside developments were having on Albany Plantation—an unincorporated territory.

One concern was the existence of illegal fire dumps in wooded areas of the plantation. Some of these areas are watersheds that feed into Lake Sebago.

Steve Pelletier, of the state Department of Environmental Protection, said the fire dumps were being monitored by the DEP, but there was really no place to move the fires to. He encouraged Albany residents to report any fresh instances of fire dumping to his agency.

Residents of the Songo Pond area of Albany voiced concern over the dead fish that have been appearing in the pond. State Senator Don Twitchell (D-Norway), said he would see to it that this is investigated promptly.

A number of residents were concerned by the fact that over 500 acres along Rte. 5 were recently purchased by a developer and a residential subdivision seems likely to emerge there at some time.

Two members of the Land Use Regulatory Commission—Commissioner Steve Wight and staffer Mark Dawson—suggested Albany residents form a strong association to deal with the possibility of such developments.

But Mr. Wight's suggestion that Albany should incorporate as a town was met with strong negative reaction from the residents. Albany residents—as part of an unincorporated territory—currently pay a tax rate of only 16.40 mills. Joseph Plourde, the state fiscal administrator for the unincorporated territories, explained that the recent increase to the current rate was because of road improvements and waste disposal sites.

In addition to the officials mentioned above, also present at the meeting were: Ruel Orr, Bureau of Taxation; Fred Dittelle, LURC; James Carey and Norman Ferguson, Oxford County Commission; State Rep. Jeff Mills (D-Bethel). Concerned Albany residents will meet with LURC officials Sept. 14 to organize a committee to act as a liaison group with state officials on developmental problems in the plantation.

Special town meeting set for Sept. 21 in Newry

The Newry Board of Selectmen, at its regular meeting yesterday, set Sept. 21 as the date for a special town meeting to take up the matter of a Comprehensive Plan and other issues.

A public hearing on the proposed Comprehensive Plan will be held at the town office Sept. 9, at 7 p.m.

Among the other articles to be voted on at the special town meeting is one to see if voters will authorize the purchase of a new truck and plow for the highway department. The selectmen have recommended the purchase.

In other business, the selectmen decided to seek bids for heating oil for the municipal building. Until they moved out last month, NOVA had been paying the heating bills, along with rent.

Mike Lynch, of the Planning Board, reported that board members met with a Ramford attorney last Friday to discuss the possibility of his acting as counsel for the board. The issue will be discussed by the Planning Board at their next meeting.

Tax bills were mailed out last Thursday. A 2 percent discount will be allowed on taxes paid before Sept. 20, and interest at the rate of 11 percent will be charged beginning Oct. 1 on taxes not paid before that date.

MSAD #44

Directors' meeting

The Board of Directors of SAD #44 met in regular session in the library at Telstar High School on Monday evening of this week.

Early in the session David Murphy, principal of the Woodstock and Andover schools presented an overview of procedures relating to discipline at the elementary level, and of the state grade 4 test scores.

Also, Louise Chapman, substance abuse and health teacher/coordinator at Telstar, reported to the board concerning the workshop scheduled for Oct. 8-9 in the area of substance abuse, and distributed concerning the Substance Abuse Team at Telstar.

The directors approved 77 people that will be involved with course offerings during the fall term of SAD #44 Adult and Community Education.

Following executive sessions totaling in excess of two hours, the directors rendered the following decision concerning a substance abuse report relating to a Telstar student: (1) The TIS student may return to Telstar as a regular day student on Sept. 2, 1987, and remain a student under all SAD #44 student school policies until after the Sept. 20, 1987, School Board meeting. (2) That the School Board will agree to review a second opinion by a registered substance abuse counselor of the parent's choice at the parent's expense on Sept. 20, 1987. That a written copy of the evaluation report will be presented to the Superintendent of Schools on or before Sept. 20, 1987. (3) That if no report is presented by Sept. 20, 1987, the School Board will action on the June 8, 1987, Tri-County evaluation report concerning the TIS student.

Following another executive session, it was the decision of the directors to rescind its vote of Aug. 10, and therefore uphold the parental appeal of the district's attendance policy. The vote means that the student will receive credit for course work taken during the 1986-87 school year, which was previously denied under provisions of the attendance policy.

A final executive session was held for the discussion of matters pertaining to negotiations.

All board members were present Monday evening with the exception of Nancy Dewing of Greenwood. (A vacancy remains from Bethel, due to the resignation of Kay Chadbourne in June.)
